
THE Collectors of the old Clothes for the diſtreſſed Proteſtants in Ireland, doe, (to the glory of God, the comfort and praiſe of theſe charitable and well affected People of the Citty of London) ſignifie that they have received as much clothing as will Cover the Nakednes of about 12.thouſand poore Soules for which they deſire praiſes may bee returned to the God of mercyes in all the Churches.

And becauſe the charges of repayring, packing, cartage, fraight, and other expences for the well and orderly tranſport of the ſaid Clothes will advance to about 300l. they deſire that every well diſpoſed Perſon will ſend their further Charity in money to the warehouſe apointed in Baſing-hall ſtreet, a little from every one will doe the worke, and if a greater proportion ſhall come in, then is propounded, it ſhall bee carefully ſent over to thoſe in greateſt neceſsity with the Clothes.

They humbly deſire that each Mans Charity may bee ſent in before the tenth of November next, 1642.